

Halloween Tricks...

Suggest a Halloween Tupperware Party! These can be dated from now until Halloween. Your hostess need only serve cider, donuts, and coffee.

Purchase Halloween candies and fill your Modular Mates Containers. Demonstrate the items, then pass around to guests so each can have a "Treat"!

Remind your hostess that any guest who brings a guest will receive a Treat!

Offer an extra gift to your hostess if she has "13" in attendance.

Carry your game prizes in a plastic pumpkin or treat bag. Tie orange or black ribbons on to game prizes and put in pumpkin or trick or treat bag with ribbons hanging out of top. Each time a guest wins a prize, she gets to pull it out with the ribbon.

You may wish to buy a real pumpkin and offer it as an incentive for the first dating.

Use mini spatula covered with tissue to make "ghosts".

Decorate a Thatsa Bowl with Halloween Stickers and use for

"The Great Pumpkin Bucket" ...

THIS IS A CONTEST FOR HOSTESSES AND GUESTS SPONSORED BY YOU!

DRAWING HELD DURING THE LAST PARTY YOU HOLD BEFORE HALLOWEEN!

HALLOWEEN PARTY TIME

Make your parties fun and everyone will want to date with you!

Suggest Halloween Tupperware demos...They can be dated from NOW until Halloween...

Your hostess need only to serve Cider/Donuts. She may want to ASK her guests to come in costume. If so, you can award a prize or prizes for the funniest, most original, etc... Or she may want to have a HOBO party where all guests come in outfits like hobos! In any case, even if no one dresses up, your Halloween parties can be lots of fun! Some people love costumes, others don't. Whatever suits the people you are doing business with—is what you do!

Demo idea: Thatsa Bowl is great for 6 quarts of punch or popcorn, or to bob for apples.

Halloween theme stickers in some catalogs to create a party mood and dating bids can be make to have their Tupperware demo during this time of year!
